

BEE/S&L/RAC/37/2017-18

1st March 2018

Time period for validity of Test Report for Room Air Conditioners

It has come to our notice that during renewal/registration/degradation of AC models under BEE star rating program, some manufacturers are submitting test reports, which are more than three years old. As intimated earlier, application submitted for renewal/registration/degradation of an AC model shall have a test report not more than 3 years old. All the manufacturers are directed to comply with this requirement at the time of applying for renewal/registration/degradation for any ac model.

This issues with the approval of competent authority.
